President's Annual Report 2008

In this last year the board has been focused on the establishment of a web site, delivery of training seminars, understanding the needs of members, and reducing the costs of interactions and communications.

The continued industry uncertainty, acquisitions, and ownership changes of companies, along with the current economic and employment issues being faced, have not been conducive to the growth of our Institution, and as a result our membership at 31/12/08 stands at 202, down 13 from the previous year. Financial support and sponsorship of our events has also been affected by these same conditions, and the short term view of the next 12 months is an expectation of much the same.

I am confident that the Gas Industry will be a major component of government strategy in reducing greenhouse emissions, and living up to our Mission Statement "Knowledge in the Gas Industry through Experience and People" will see our Institution as key support for the Gas Industry's role.

2008 Conference

The 2008 Conference was held at "The Resort" Wisemans Ferry over the period 7th – 9th March; once again the quality and relevance of the papers presented were outstanding. Some 50 attendees enjoyed the mix of business and pleasure with the Conference Dinner on Saturday night and B-B-Q Lunch Sunday being the social highlights.

I take this opportunity to thank all the presenters, especially our own members whose presentations confirmed the enormous depth of knowledge we have within our membership.

Breakfast Seminar

The Annual Breakfast Seminar was once again held at the Bankstown Trotting Club on Friday 13th June, and could by no means be considered a Black Friday. 37 attended and our guest speaker Antony Cockshott provided an informative, but light hearted view of some poor quality installations of metering equipment.

I would like to thank Landis + Gyr for not only sponsoring the breakfast but allowing Antony the time to prepare and present as well.

Past Presidents & Honorary Life Members Luncheon.

September 15th seen another gathering of Past Presidents and Honorary Life Members at the Bowlers Club in Sydney, this is fast becoming one of those icon events that are the reward for service to the Industry and the Institution.

IGEM (UK)

Once again this year we were able to meet up with & enjoy the company of IGEM (UK) President Robert J Murray and CEO John Williams who were in Australia for the Energy Networks Association Conference, giving us the opportunity to continue and strengthen our relationship with IGEM (UK).

Christmas Function

Bankstown Trotting Club was once again the venue for our annual Christmas Dinner, 41 members and guests attended and enjoyed the festive ambience and opportunity to reminisce the events of the year. Joe Calabrese gave a presentation on our new web site that will become the launching pad for our future Industry presence, and the centre of our communications with members, and indeed all Industry participants.

IGE Newsletter

The IGE newsletter has continued to provide relevant industry updates, technical information and social news. We are endeavouring to deliver the newsletter electronically where possible to help ease the financial burden on the Institution, but remain mindful of our members who are not able to easily access this medium. As always contributions are gratefully accepted, and if there is particular information of interest to you, then you can bet that same information will be of interest to other members, so, don't hold back letting the editor know of new product, processes or information to follow up on, or indeed feel free to provide an article of your own. Member feedback does indicate that the newsletter is well received and read.

Membership

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome the new members who joined us through 2008. On behalf of the Board, we thank you for your support and we look forward to being of service to you whenever possible.

Financial Statement

Whilst the IGE's financial statement appears under matters to be considered during the Annual General Meeting, I would note for your interest that our financial position has remained relatively stable last year. Contributing factors of course has been the reduction in new member intakes and a large number of unpaid fees.

The IGE is a non-profit organisation in that its income is derived mainly from membership subscriptions. If members are slow in paying subscriptions then again, recovery of costs is similarly delayed and exclusion of members for the non-payment of dues also leaves a mark on the bank account.

The Board has acted in the best interest of you, its members, and you may be assured that it will continue to do so. The Board is also very grateful for all the hard work by our Treasurer to ensure good control over our finances.

Outstanding Subscriptions

Outstanding subscriptions leave a dent on our accounts. Despite the most diligent efforts of our Secretary, as at 31/12/08 there were eleven (11) outstanding for two (2) years 2007 & 2008, and twenty nine (29) for one (1) year 2008. The Board would greatly appreciate the assistance of our members in clearing these debits. The last option the Board has is to exclude a member for the non-payment of dues, and unfortunately 7 members were excluded in 2008. If unsure I encourage you to check with the Secretary to establish your financial status.

Vale

It is with deep sadness we report the passing of 3 members this year, the IGE was represented at their services by members and offered it's condolences to the families of;

- Alwyn Ball
- Trevor Eirth
- Raymond Mills

In Appreciation

On behalf of the IGE I would like to extend our appreciation and thanks to the following organisations and individuals.

The Board Members, for their unqualified support and attendance at board meetings throughout the year, and working to maintain the affairs of the IGE.

John Warrington, our Honorary Secretary Treasurer who over the past 12 months has relentlessly promoted the IGE, organising the various functions, seeking sponsors & speakers, maintaining contact with the more senior members and maintaining a tight control over the IGE finances.

Joe Calabrese, our immediate Past President for his efforts to ensure our computer and email systems keep running, the enormous amount of time and commitment establishing our web site, and providing me with a clear path to follow, along with his support, guidance and assistance.

Ken Dive FCA, a partner in MacBride Hinton & Co. for again auditing the IGE accounts.

Stephen Reynolds, for his help in promoting our cause throughout the Industry, assisting with items for the newsletter, and most of all his infectious energy level and informative presentations.

Macarthur Gas, who have been of considerable assistance to the IGE in the provision of a meeting place for the Board and the enormous amount of secretarial support offered to our Secretary.

Bankstown Trotting Club, where our Breakfast and Christmas Seminars were held, and in particular the Catering Manager, Jenny Thompson who helped to organise these functions.

Patrick West, the man behind the production of our certificates to members and supporters.

Tony Atkinson (Gameco) and Karina O'Keefe (Macarthur Gas) who have provided considerable clerical support and managed to keep our Secretary John Warrington contented.

To the sponsors of the 2008 Annual Conference and our other functions and seminars, I would repeat that it is your support that helps to provide the facilities, contributes to the atmosphere of the events, and certainly adds to their success.

I take this opportunity to note the Sponsors throughout the year.

- Alinta (Jemena)
- Country Energy
- Dundalk Pipelaying
- Gameco
- Landis + Gyr (Ampy + Email)
- Macarthur Gas
- Rheem Australia
- System Control Engineering
- Techrite Controls
- UtiliTrain

We understand and appreciate that there are only limited funds available to support functions like ours, and thank you for your support as we do with this year's sponsors who are listed in the Conference Programme.

Conclusion

Again this past year has seen some uncertain times, your Board is largely focused on the needs of you our members, and being able to provide support that will help you increase your knowledge and skills, and this can best be achieved by the feedback you provide, and your attendance and support at functions.

It's been said many times before – "you get back what you put in" it's up to you all as members to participate in your Institution, communicate with the board, offer constructive views and even criticism when needed, our Industry is too important to be a small part of the energy and communication sector, we need somewhere to be recognised for our importance to the community, and that is what I believe our Institution can be for us.

I look forward to the challenges of this next year and the opportunities they may bring.
